County Fair At Wilmot Next Week

Kenosha County's annual four-day fair is scheduled to open one week from today, Thursday, August 8 through Aug. 11. The site will be the fair grounds in Wilmot. Special events will include a 'Broadway' musical comedy, "Guys and Dolls," with Peter Palmer in the starring role, one performance only, Sunday, Aug. 11, at 8 p.m. Other features include a drum and bugle corps festival, Friday, Aug. 9, at 7:30 p.m. before the grandstand. The Junior Horse show is Sunday, Aug. 11, at 3 p.m. Professional entertainment will be featured each afternoon and evening, except Sunday evening. The program of free acts includes aerial artists, tumblers, a chimpanzee act and a chorus of dancers. Sky-diving Exhibit
An added attraction at this year's fair will be a sky-diving exhibit by members of the Chicago Sky-diving Club who performed at Chicago's International Fair and competed in a three-day meet at the newly opened Lake George Sports Center. Divers will be flown from the Center and jumpmaster will be Connie O'Rourke, chief instructor, at the sky diving school in operation after Aug. 1 at the Center. Admission to this show will be free to fair patrons and may be seen from grandstand seats.

A tractor pulling contest beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 11, before the grandstand will include contestants from Walworth, Racine and Kenosha counties and from Lake County, Illinois.

The Bristol Band will give a concert on the grounds at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 11.

Break Ground For Addition To Church
At 10:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 4, ground will be broken for the new religious education addition to the Antioch Methodist Church.

The Rev. Andrew Cobb, pastor of the church, announced that Elmer Eberman, chairman of the trustees and of the Building Committee, and David Cain, treasurer of the committee, will take part in the ceremonies. They have worked hard for many months, he said, to bring this project to actuality.

Also taking part in the ceremonies will be Clifford Houghton, lay leader; Wayne Polsgrove, Superintendent of the Sunday School, and the Rev. Cobb's son, Stephen, who will preach the sermon for the day.

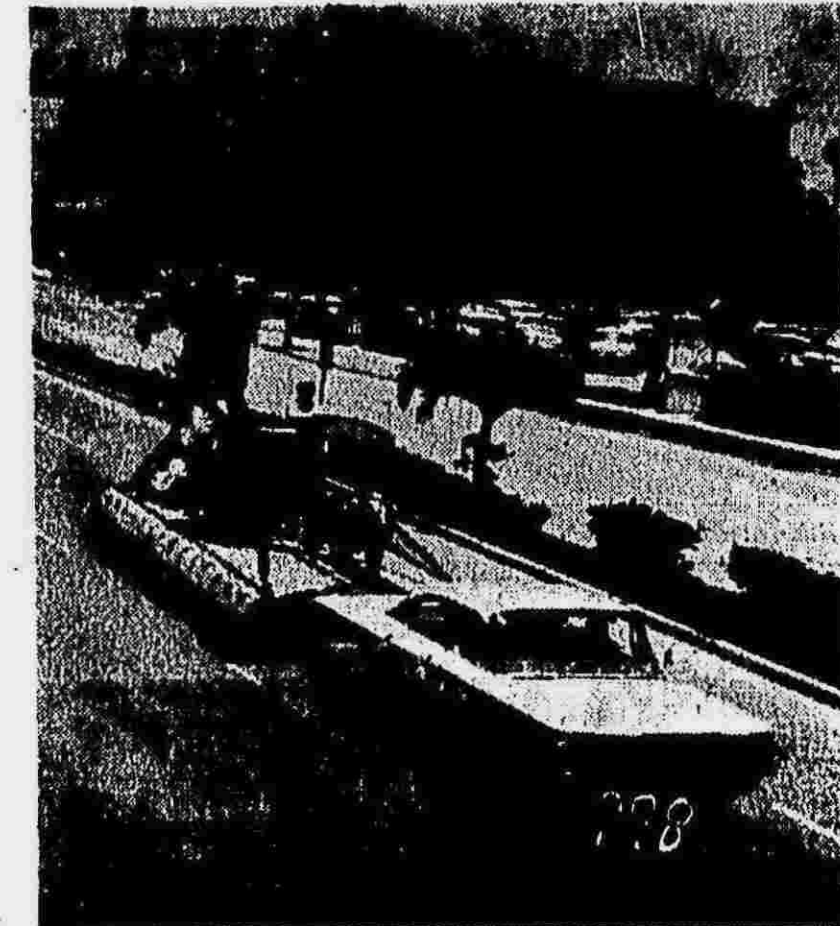

The High School M.Y.F. will participate in the 9:30 a.m. service, while the college youth will take part in the 11 a.m. service.

Marvin Heath is the general contractor for the new addition. Cooley & Boore of Park Ridge are the architects. The addition will include five classrooms, a new kitchen, two offices (for the secretary and the pastor), and a lounge. Cost of the addition is estimated at $140,000. It will be added to the north end of Wesley Hall, running west and using space now used for a parking lot.

Pool Pass at Bargain Rates

Jim Corrigan, manager of the Antioch Aqua Center announced today that starting immediately, pool passes for the balance of the season will be on sale for half price. This means, Corrigan explained, that family passes can be purchased for $10 and single passes for $5. The passes can be purchased at the Aqua Center only and will be good till the pool closes Sept. 1st.

Corrigan also reported that the State Board of Health recently tested a water sample from the pool and found it to be well above minimum standards for health requirements.

Antioch Boy Kills Father

Fifteen-year-old John Ksioszk, a student at Antioch Community High School, is being held in the County Jail after shooting and killing his father, Felix B. Ksioszk, Rt. 2, Antioch, last Friday.

State's Attorney Bruno Stanczak said Judge Minard Hulse refused to authorize the transmission of the youth to the Juvenile Home, because of the seriousness of the crime. Stanczak said Ksioszk would probably be charged with murder when the Grand Jury convenes next Monday.

John confessed the shooting of his father to Assistant State's Attorney Jack Hoggan Friday morning. He shot his father once as he lay sleeping, then went outside and waited until his mother came home. His mother telephoned for help, and Mr. Ksioszk was taken to Zion Hospital, where he died at 6:50 a.m.

The boy said he and his father had gone on a fishing trip. His father was drinking, and became abusive after they returned home. From the boy's story, it appeared that there was a history of discord between father and son, and the boy had thought of killing him before.

Felix Ksioszk was buried Tuesday after funeral services from the Strang Funeral Home in Antioch.

Boo Hums-Just Fun

Louis Baffetti, Rt. 4, Antioch, now heads the Boo Hum Ditt Dums.

The Boo Hum Ditt Dums, just in case you never heard about them, is the National Letter Carriers Assoc. Louis is the National Organizer.

The Boo Hum Ditt Dums is strictly a fun organization. Maybe they go on long hikes. We don't really know.

State Fair Soon

A feature attraction of the 1963 Light Horse Show at the Illinois State Fair will be the appearance of a Roman-style six-horse hurling act with a woman at the reins.

Considered one of the nation's most talented equestriennes, Miss Elaine Kramer of Prairie du Chien, Wis., will put on the performance each evening during the light horse show in the Coliseum.

The colorful exhibition was created and trained by Miss Kramer and has been appearing at special shows throughout the nation. All six horses in the act are Chestnut American saddle-breds.

The 1962 Illinois State Fair will open on Friday, Aug. 9, and will continue through Sunday, Aug. 18.

Maxwell St. Days Are Here Again

Over 40 Antioch merchants will be participating in Maxwell St. Days this week-end, announces Ray Jensen, chairman of the committee co-ordinating plans for the big sale; more than have ever taken part in the promotion before.

This means that the business streets of Antioch will be lined with tables displaying tempting bargains during the three days of the sale—August 1, 2 and 3. Inside the stores will be even more bargains.

The new Chamber of Commerce is promoting the sales days this year, and member merchants are busily marking down price tags on various articles as their part in luring customers to the village.

Maxwell St. Days, coming toward summer's end, gives the merchants a chance to offer their remaining stock to customers at real bargain prices, plus some special year-round items marked down for these few days for the benefit of the buying public.

Canny shoppers will be crowding the streets this weekend to scan the racks and tables and hunt up bargains. Join the crowd. If you don't find what you want, you'll at least get a chance to chat with old friends.

Eat Chicken, Take Home Beef, At Lions' Barbecue

Chicken, cooked to golden perfection over open pits, and all the trimmings, will be served at the Antioch Aqua Center by the men of the Lions Club next Sunday, August 4, from 11 a.m. to about 5:30 p.m.

Tables and chairs will be available around the pool. And after you've eaten your chicken dinner, you may be one of the lucky ones who takes home a goodly hunk of champion steer meat.

The steer was purchased by the State Bank at the recent County Fair Auction, and donated to the Lions Club by the bank. The 935 pound Champion Hereford steer, heavyweight class, was raised and shown by David White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer White of Antioch. The State Bank bid 234 cents a pound to buy the 935 pound steer at a total cost of $222.06.

Even if you don't care much for chicken, it will be well worth your time and money to watch Antioch's Lions Club members (who carefully keep their culinary skill under wraps most of the year) efficiently turning out and serving a complete chicken dinner.

Assembly-line efficiency prevails throughout the operation. About 250 birds are cooking on grills over the pits at one time, with men busily buttering and basting. The birds are turned by the men grasping corners of the separate grills and flipping them over.

At the cafeteria-style serving table, the same efficiency prevails, with each man assigned a separate job—taking money, dispensing butter, bread, salad or what-have-you.

The Lions expect to serve about 700 chicken dinners during the course of the day.

Flying Group Gather at Raether Home

Twenty-one planes, carrying about 75 people, gathered at the Orrin Raether farm northeast of Antioch last Sunday. They were all members of the Flying Farmers organization.

This particular chapter is the Wisconsin branch, and most of the planes came from that state—Whitewater, Janesville, Portage, Milwaukee and Madison were all represented. The Raethers belong to both the Wisconsin and Illinois groups, as their house is in Wisconsin and their landing field in Illinois.

Johnson Motors hosted the flying group on a boat tour of the Chain O' Lakes, and the Antioch Chamber of Commerce provided car transportation to and from Sequit Harbor for the trip.

"The hospitality of Johnson Motors and the Chamber of Commerce were tremendously appreciated," Mrs. Raether said. "Many of the people told me how interesting the trip was. Although many of them are from lake regions, none had seen so densely populated a lake area."

Dinner was served to the group at the farm, and after the boat trip planes started taking off for home. These are farmers, Mrs. Raether pointed out, and they have chores to attend to.

The Raethers themselves will be leaving for Rapid City, South Dakota, next week (by plane) to attend a meeting of the International group there. That is, weather permitting. There is a national organization of the Flying Farmers, and an international group which takes in portions of Canada.

The Illinois chapter has over 100 members.

Terra Jet at Fair

An automobile, ten feet long, without wheels, will be on display at the Illinois State Fair. Called the "Terra Jet," the car travels on an air cushion four to six inches above the ground and can be seen operating daily, August 9 through Aug. 18, at the fairgrounds.

The Grand Parade on opening day, Friday, Aug. 9, will have an all-time record of 1,381 baton twirlers and 1,550 Boy Scouts and other youth groups. The parade line will be more than double those of recent years.

Franklin Rust, state fair manager, said in addition to children and youth groups, a dozen floats, bands, drum and bugle corps will participate.

Algae Problem To Be Subject of Study

Various government agencies will cooperate in a year-long study of the algae problem in the Chain O' Lakes, it was announced at the Friday night public meeting held at Grant High School to discuss the problem.

The efforts of the various agencies will be co-ordinated by a group from the University of Wisconsin headed by Professor Gerard Rohlich. The services of this group who have reportedly made a long study of the algae problem, are being employed by the Lake County Health Department.

The U. S. Public Health Service, the state Sanitary Water Board and the Illinois Conservation Dept. will also join in the study.

C. W. Klassen, the Illinois Sanitary Water Board's chief engineer, spoke to the assembly at the High School, and said there was some evidence of pollution in the Fox River, caused by inadequate sewage treatment. The planned study will include streams connecting with lakes, such as the Fox River.

Klassen said Lake McHenry Cook, DuPage and Will counties are 25 years behind the times in planning for water and sewage improvements.

The effluents from sewerage plants—even the best ones—nurture the growth of the algae. All of the experts seem agreed on this. The excessive algae growth, and its die-off, begin a vicious circle which depletes the fish population, creates an unpleasant odor, and in general makes the waters unattractive. If not unfit, for recreational purposes.

The problem is not as bad in lakes with good circulation of water. Grass Lake, Channel Lake and Lake Catherine reportedly have much less algae than some of the lakes. Petite Lake, Pistakee, and Fox Lake are among the hardest hit.

Civic League Protests Power-Grab of Public Works Department

The Lake County Civic League, in an Open Letter to Robert J. Dickson, chairman, and all County Board members, has protested certain proposals of the Public Works committee. The letter from the League is signed by Elmer W. Freytag, president.

The proposals were contained in a communication addressed to township supervisors, mayors and village presidents. The communication serves notice of certain amendments to the resolution creating the Department of Public Works to be presented at the September meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

The three amendments which will be proposed are:

1. The maximum total amount of advances will be changed from $100,000 to an amount equal to the accrued value of the sales tax collected from the unincorporated areas of the county which have been deposited in the general fund since the effective date of the statute.
 2. Extend the three year limitation on repayment of advances and provide that the repayment period shall be computed from the date on which the advance is made.
 3. Provide that administrative costs sufficient to pay the salary of the Superintendent, clerical staff and normal office overhead be appropriated from the County General Fund.
- The Civic League says that the proposed amendments could double the spending budget of the Public Works Dept. and deprive the Finance Committee of any jurisdiction over policies of the department.
- The Civic League points out that, when the Dept. of Public Works was formed, Chairman Dickson (of the County Board) promised that the department would operate entirely on its own earned revenue.
- The League suggests that the proposed amendments be voted down by the County Board, and that the authority of the Board's Finance Committee over the Public Works Department be re-established.

Revoke Licenses

The office of the Secretary of State has announced the revocation of the following driving licenses: Chris M. Marshall, Rt. 4, Lake Villa; Gilbert Nero, Rt. 1, Lake Villa, and Gus Galanopoulos, Rt. 1, Box 478, Antioch.

Licenses of the first two named were revoked for driving while intoxicated. The license of Galanopoulos was revoked following three violations.

Cross Lake Hanging Still Puzzles Police

The sheriff's office of Kenosha County is still seeking information in the strange strangulation death of Jack Howen, of Goodman, Wis., at Cross Lake.

Chief Investigator William P. Schmitt said Tuesday he would be grateful for information from anyone who saw the boy, talked to him, or knew anything of possible significance in the case.

Howen, 16 years old, was found at about 6:30 a.m. Friday, July 26, seated under a small apple tree near their home, a belt around his neck and drawn over the limb of the apple tree, only about three feet from the ground.

There was no note, and there is no evidence that the boy would wish to commit suicide. Sheriff's deputies said it appeared unlikely that the boy could have hung himself from the evidence.

An autopsy showed that death resulted from strangulation. The boy was 6 ft. 3 in. tall and weighed 240 pounds. There were no marks on the body to indicate violence, and deputies said it would be practically impossible for anyone to "handle" the youth without violence.

Real Patriots

"No patriotism," grumble the elders, speaking of the younger generation.

There seems to be a lot of truth in it. The Star Spangled Banner, the Pledge of Allegiance, doesn't seem to evoke the surge of respectful applause that it did fifty years ago.

All sorts of remedies are suggested. More study of American History, more propaganda on the advantages of being an American, more severe repression of those who criticize the American government, are some of the methods suggested for changing this unfortunate trend.

We're all for more study of American history. History's one subject anyone can benefit from. After all, people never really change, and history is just the story of people's actions and reactions to various situations. So if you study enough history you can learn quite a lot about people and perhaps have a better understanding of the history that's happening today.

But if the people who decry the growing lack of patriotism expect the study of American History to nurture a loyal and respectful acquiescence to authority, a blind reverence for the symbol of Our Country, they'd better go back and study American History themselves.

What did the first Americans do when their government took actions they disagreed with? They left the land of their birth and built a home where their own laws prevailed.

Later on, these blazing patriots dumped a load of tea in Boston Harbor when they didn't like a tax. And they refused to pay the taxes. And they fought and died in defense of their beliefs.

And when the two segments of the country disagreed on the moral issue of slavery, did one side bow to the other? They did not. They fought and died. But they never humbly or cynically or greedily acquiesced to authority that they felt was wrong.

No, we aren't suggesting that a bunch of teen-age kids rioting because they can't think of anything else to do are comparable to the early patriots. They're just bored brats who are looking for excitement because they're too lazy to work at anything long enough to feel the thrill of a hard job well done.

We are suggesting that a lot of the patriots elders are just as un-American as they think the kids are. Because they don't even bother to vote against the men they know are stealing from them. Because they cynically proclaim that everyone who is running for office will cheat them if given a chance. Because they vote for men who they know are dishonest because, they say, "at least, we got this or that benefit" or "He could have done a worse job." Because they sit back and wait for unions and school boards and officials at every level of government to do their thinking for them. But, worst of all, because they label as "crackpot" anyone who protests a decision, or a "trend", or a self-styled "expert".

Your Governor Reports
by OTTO KERNER

Illinois, for the first time, has climbed on the bandwagon for one of the nation's fastest-growing businesses—tourism.

The only organized efforts in recent years to bring visitors to this state have been scattered local and area groups, striving separately and with limited funds to sell outsiders on our recreational and historical attractions. This contrasted with the efficient tourist promotion of neighboring states—usually with less to offer than Illinois.

The last General Assembly, upon my recommendation, appropriated half a million dollars to aid the cause of tourism. Eighty percent of the money will go to local and area groups, which will put up matching funds for the development of tourist programs and advertising.

The rest will be used by the state for general tourist promotion.

Illinois has plenty to promote. A recent survey listed the City of Chicago and the state's Abraham Lincoln shrines as two of the top tourist attractions in the United States.

The latter will receive still another boost this weekend, with the formal dedication of the Illinois section of the 993-mile Lincoln Heritage trail. The trail traces Lincoln's early life in Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois. The dedication will be Saturday, August 3, at New Salem State Park near Petersburg, Ill.

The state's outdoors has also become a great tourist attraction. Contrary to its "Prairie State" sobriquet, Illinois is dotted with lakes, laced with rivers and filled with hills and valleys. No citizen lives more than an hour away from a beautiful

The importance of tourism to the state's economic growth cannot be overemphasized. Each additional 20 to 25 visitors attracted to Illinois per day means the equivalent of an industrial payroll of $100,000 a year. Tourist income is directly responsible for 425,000 jobs in the state.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU BURNIN

Republican precinct committeemen gathered at Prenger's Resort, Grass Lake, last week, ostensibly to nominate a candidate to seek the First Judicial District Justice of the Peace post made vacant by the recent death of John Stanton.

However, action on the nomination was tabled, when it was pointed out that Gov. Otto Kerner has a bill on his desk which would do away with special elections to fill vacancies in the justice of the peace or police magistrate ranks.

This bill is one of the implementing laws drafted to put in motion the amendment to the judicial article of the state constitution.

State Rep. W. J. Murphy, of Antioch, was at the meeting and naturally was called on to explain once more why the legislators didn't re-district the state so Lake County could have an additional legislative district.

The remap as finally approved by the General Assembly, but vetoed by Gov. Kerner, gave southern Illinois two new districts cutting down one district that was nearly 200 miles across.

Rep. Murphy's explanation to the GOP committeemen from Antioch, Grant, Avon and Lake Villa Townships stressed the purely partisan politics of the maneuver more than he did in speaking before the League of Women Voters in Waukegan or the Town Owners Assn. of Lake County in Libertyville, but he emphasized that there was no way to get a new district for Lake County under the conditions that prevailed.

"We did our job by re-districting as called for by the Constitution and made the only alignment possible at the time," Murphy pointed out.

Circuit Judge Thomas J. Moran was on hand to explain some of the intricacies of the legislation designed to improve the state judiciary placing particular stress on the revamped Appellate Court setup.

While Judge Moran carefully refrained from making a political talk there was a strong suspicion that he would welcome the support of the First District committeemen along about Appellate convention time.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter is slated to formally announce his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor in his home town Sunday in what should be the most anti-climatic speech of the year.

Carpenter has been a candidate since the political demise of former Gov. William G. Stratton so his formal announcement should contain few surprises.

While Carpenter was preparing his formal announcement Charles Percy, an avowed candidate for the same nomination, was visiting Lake County with stops at the Lake County Fair and in the courthouse.

Percy has a rough summer of county fair attendance ahead of him in his effort to overcome the statewide acquaintanceship enjoyed by Carpenter, but he appears confident that he can cut the mustard between now and the spring primary.

Fellow scribe Ed Nash, unchallenged king of the corn eaters, had better go in training to defend his laurels at Elmer Wolf's annual corn roast Aug. 13.

Police Magistrate Delany Bennett, of Ropund Lake Park, a trencherman of renown who has a golden knife and fork in his trophy case to attest to his prowess as an eater of considerable stature, has announced that he will challenge the champ, Judge Bennett, a stickler for detail, is asking that GOP Chairman, Robert J. Milton draft some ground rules for the contest.

Incidentally, Milton has announced that the annual golf outing of the GOP Central Committee will be held at Chevy Chase Country Club, Wheeling, on Wednesday, Aug. 21.

The Lake County Democratic Central Committee will hold its annual picnic at the Serb Monastery Sunday, Aug. 11 and according to County Chairman Bill Hartnett there should be a big turnout of visiting dignitaries.

State Rep. Jack Bairstow, who has been the lone Democratic officeholder on a county wide basis on the picnic platform for to these many years, will have company this year in the person of Judge Philip Yager.

Dear Sir:

It was with a great deal of interest that I read your recent editorial concerning the collection of personal property taxes. While it is not my policy to write answers to editorials or letters, even those threatening me with loss of votes, I felt that your editorial deserved an answer.

The provisions for the assessment and collection of the personal property tax are contained in Chapter 120 of the Illinois Revised Statutes, 1961. Section 671 of this Chapter states, "Every town collector, and every county collector, in cases where there is no town collector, upon receiving the tax book or tax books, shall proceed to collect the taxes mentioned therein."

Chapter 14 of the Illinois Revised Statutes, 1961, sets forth the duties of the State's Attorney. Section 5 of Chapter 14 states, among other things, "the duty of each State's Attorney shall be to commence and prosecute all actions, and proceedings brought by any county officer in his official capacity."

As you stated, the Sheriff cannot refuse to serve papers delivered to him. Section 15 of Chapter 125 of the Illinois Revised Statutes states, "Sheriffs shall serve and execute, within their respective counties, and return all writs, warrants, process, orders and decrees of every description that may be legally directed and delivered to them. . . ."

Each of the above mentioned County Officials is subject to penalty for refusing to perform his respective duties.

The personal property tax is actually composed of many taxes. In your township, the rate ranges from 2.647 to 3.993. The basic rate is .595 which includes County, Forest Preserve, Town, Road and bridge, Gravel, and Antioch Township Library. Of this, the County's rate is .257. Added to the basic rate are rates for each of the High School Districts and the Elementary School Districts, the Fox Lake Fire Protection District, the Antioch Fire Protection District, and the Village of Antioch. As you can see, the County's share of these taxes runs only from 9% to 8 1/2%. Instead of blaming the County Board of Supervisors for "spending money like a drunken sailor," it might be prudent to pause and reflect next time a bond referendum comes your way.

Also talk to your school trustees. Seventy-six to 85% of every personal property tax dollar goes to the schools and they are the ones who complain the most when the delinquent taxes aren't paid.

I think it is evident that the real culprit in a matter like this is not the elected officials who fulfill their duties by enforcing the law, but rather the people themselves who do not make their wishes known strongly enough to their representatives in

The irrepressible Bill Veeck struck a telling blow for minority groups on TV the other night (Or was it against them?)

Bill announced his 1964 candidacy for President of the U. S. And his platform is equal rights for left-handers.

Veeck pointed out that left-handers are sadly discriminated against. And does anybody speak up in their defense? No. Teachers may try to change left-handers into right-handers, but that's about as much acknowledgment of his problems as the leftie will ever get.

Everything, Bill pointed out, is built for right-handed people. Golf courses, can openers—even toilets, says Mr. Veeck—are arranged for the convenience of the smug majority group, right-handers.

Take the car, for instance. Presumably, the left-hander is an idiot. The only thing put within his easy reach is the emergency brake. And which arm hangs out the window as he drives along, to be the most likely candidate for injury from a passing car? His precious left arm.

It's sad. It's very sad. How can this calm ignoring of the rights of these second-class citizens be wiped out?

Enjoy yourselves, boys—It's later than you think.

Dior announced the other day that hemlines are dropping three inches. Maybe it won't happen this fall, but Dior has spoken, and down will go the hems.

Not only will the male population be deprived of their recreation of feminine-gam-viewing, if he's a husband he'll have to finance a whole new wardrobe. Life is hard.

Hurrah! Ralph Ginsburg, who operated Eros, has been convicted of violating the postal obscenity statute. He's probably made enough money selling his magazine to morons so that he can cheerfully pay up and look for another form of advertising and disseminating his "literature," but at least he hasn't gone unscathed.

I generally take a dim view of censorship, on the grounds that even morons are entitled to free choice. It's easy to toss advertising literature in the wastebasket.

Maybe the reason the ad from Eros magazine made me so angry was because it was addressed to me personally, and was so blatantly lurid. I bitterly resent my name being sold to any firm as part of a mailing list. I consider this an invasion of privacy. It's too bad there isn't some practical legal method to stop this practice.

In conclusion, I wish to say that I would be less than honest with myself and with the people who twice have voted me into office if I did not discharge my duties to the best of my ability.

Yours truly,
BRUNO W. STANCZAK
States Attorney

Declare Lake Co. Drought Disaster Area

—Lt. Gov. Samuel Shapiro, acting for Gov. Otto Kerner, today requested the U. S. Department of Agriculture to declare six counties in extreme Northern Illinois as drought disaster areas.

Lt. Gov. Shapiro took the action after consulting with Gov. Kerner, who is attending the annual Governors' Conference in Miami, Fla.

The Illinois Federal Disaster Committee recommended the request for the counties of Stephenson, Jo Daviess, Winnebago, Carroll, McHenry and Lake, which are heavily populated with dairy and beef cattle.

If granted, farmers in the counties would be able to graze and make hay from land that had been diverted under the federal crop land retirement program. The disaster committee pointed out that farmers in the affected areas have agreed to pay back to the federal government the payments they already have received for retirement of the land.

The committee originally had investigated the requests of 27 counties that reported severe and critical drought conditions, but the other requests were withdrawn in the wake of soaking rains during the past few days.

Record Production By Holsteins

Rolling Acres Star Judy 5233933, a two-year-old, owned by Ravensden Farm, Antioch, produced 17,391 lbs. milk and 603 lbs. butterfat in 365 days.

ACCIDENT RATE IS UP
After rising steadily for 11 consecutive months, 1962 motor vehicle fatalities finally exceeded 41,000 for an all-time high. This is an increase of approximately 3% over 1961. Double injuries reached a total of 1,500,000 in 1962, an increase of 100,000 over 1961.

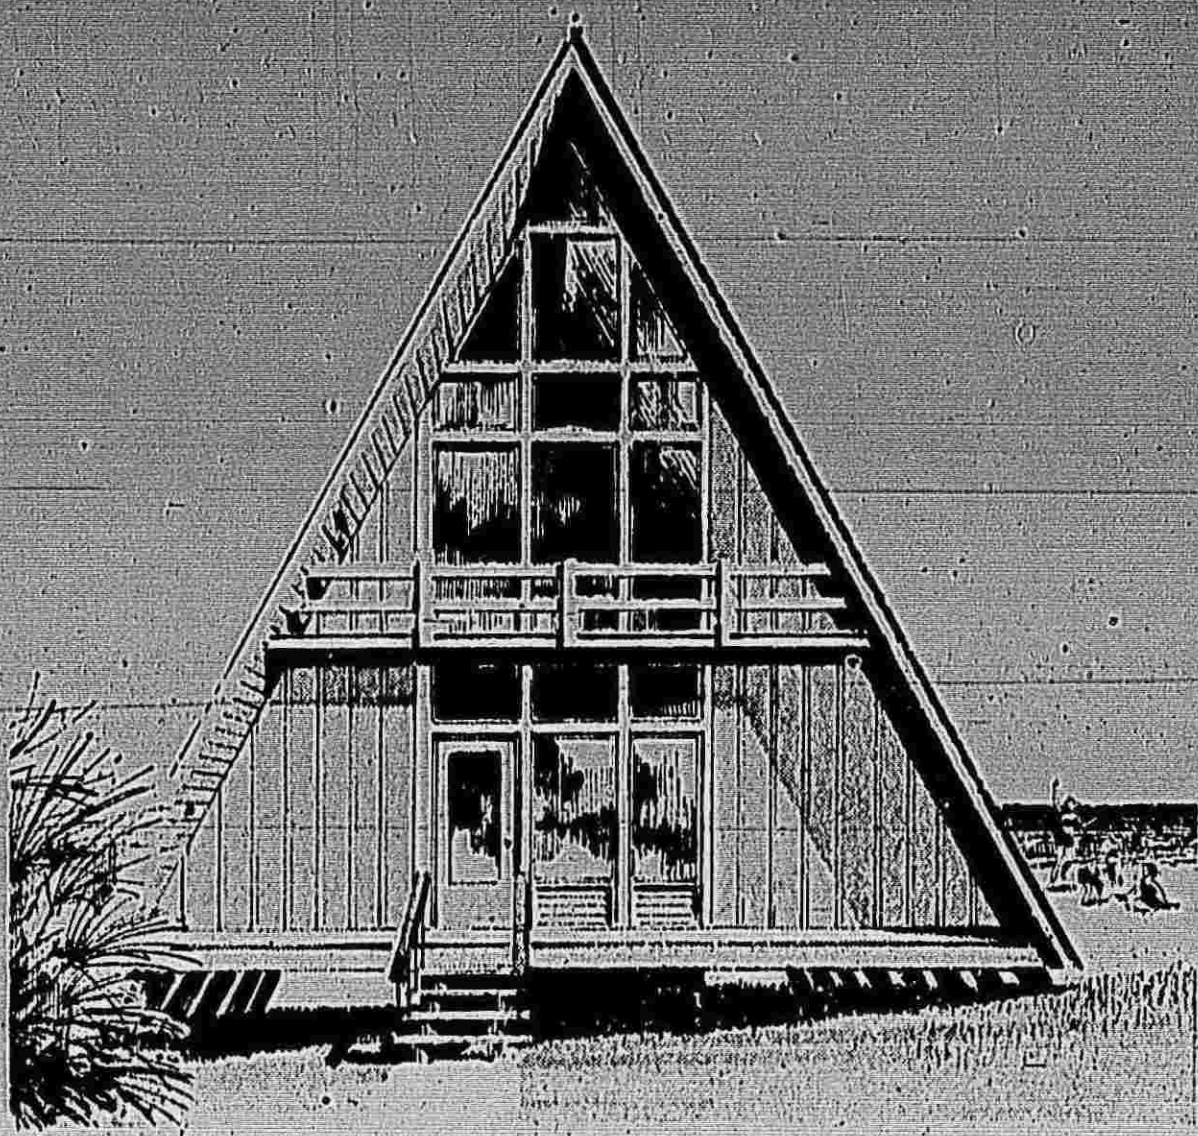

The greatest increases occurred during June, July and August. Only 9 states showed decreases for the entire year. Unfortunately, Illinois is not on this honor list. We show an increase of 63 over 1961.

Specific reasons for the 1962 increase in the death rate are difficult to determine. City areas showed an 11% increase, compared with 7% on rural highways. The increase was proportionately much higher in the smaller cities.

The figures stated above carry both a message and a warning. In view of the upward trend, it is most important that all of us make a sincere effort to do a better job of safe driving in 1963.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council
CONSIDERING MOTHER
By Terry Morris
Medical and Sociological Writer

It is increasingly recognized today that the mother's health—her mental and physical ability to cope with the demands of motherhood—a direct influence on the well-being of the baby in its early years, and even beyond.

Motherhood produces physical and emotional strains in many women. These are often most serious among women who have had children more rapidly than desired and find themselves unable to care properly for them either physically, economically or both.

Psychologists report that many of their patients, some times more than half, are concerned because they have too many children, are afraid of having more, and don't know what to do about it.

The children in such instances are innocent sufferers. The older ones may feel neglected. For younger children and babies, the tender mother-child relationship may be incomplete, denying the young the security they instinctively seek. The lack of a mother's focused time and attention may start a child on the road to emotional and disciplinary problems.

Doctors know that mother's health may demand spacing children so that she is physically able to cope with the next one. There is growing agreement now among religious groups, family counselors and social workers that there are important and legitimate social, emotional and economic reasons for intelligent family planning.

The growing interest in the proper spacing of children has brought new developments. One was an extensive test in Puerto Rico, reported recently in the Journal of the American Medical Association. A new concept, an aerosol foam, emko, was tested and found to be highly acceptable and effective because of its ease of use with a minimum of instructions. Today, more than 40,000 families are using it there. Similar tests in clinics and with field programs in this country led to its general availability in the United States and in several foreign countries. Hospitals and family planning groups are employing it widely because of its ease of use, its relatively low cost and its lack of side effects.

Now, with this new addition to the family planning area, the emotional and physical strains of too much motherhood can be more easily controlled and the prospect of bringing happy, loved children into the world enhanced.

The Young Idea

Underneath a chalked sidewalk sign which read, "Tommy loves Helen," a childish hand had written, "Unconfirmed report" (Henry Stampler, quoted by Robert Sylvester) . . . A four-year-old announced that she was going to run away. Then she added, "Well, who's going to drive me?" (Seattle Times) . . . A little girl who was late to school explained to the teacher, "I was walking behind a slow dog." (AP).

If your picnic area is near a highway or well traveled street, says the Chicago Motor Club, make certain your automobile is parked a safe distance from speeding traffic. When parking for roadside picnics always make certain your car is pulled completely off the highway. Autos parked on the shoulder of the road can be a mental hazard to oncoming drivers whose tendency is to swerve over the center line when passing a parked vehicle parked close to the highway.

This is the season of indecision for the youngster who worked at odd jobs to earn money for a gift for his girl friend and now realizes he has the exact amount needed for that catcher's mitt he's been wanting.

It can't be inherited. It's not contagious. It's not a disease. Yet it can strike any family . . . strike a child of the healthiest parents. Its name? Cerebral palsy.

QUICK DILL PICKLES

Use firm young cucumbers of even size. Scrub them well without breaking skin, rinse, and pack closely into clean, hot quart jars. Place a head of dill in top of each jar and add a clove of garlic (optional).

Make a pickling solution in these proportions: 3 quarts water, 1 quart vinegar, 1 cup salt. Cook to boiling and pour over cucumbers in the jars. Seal and store in a cool place for six weeks, during which time the cucumbers cure.

Bus and Truck Tax Due September 3rd

The Internal Revenue Service today reminded owners of trucks and buses that the Federal highway use tax is due on September 3, 1963. Revenue collected goes into a highway trust fund, created by Congress, to help finance the government's interstate highway building program.

In addition to the Federal highway use tax which affects trucks and bus owners, revenues from taxes on motor fuels, tires, inner tubes, retread rubber and other items are being funneled into the highway fund.

Highway use taxes on trucks and buses range from $81 to $180 annually for each vehicle subject to the tax. All trucks operating on public highways are subject to this tax if they meet certain unloaded weight and axle specifications and are registered by state law.

Federal tax return Form 2290, necessary for filing, contains a listing of the specific tax to be paid on trucks according to the month the vehicle was put into operation. Form 2290 also describes the tax to be paid by bus owners.

For buses, the tax is based on unloaded weight of the bus, plus 160 pounds for each unit of seating capacity. This applies primarily to operators of intercity buses. Local transit systems are exempt from the tax under certain conditions. Details and information are available at local Internal Revenue offices.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1963

formation are available at local Internal Revenue offices.

Tax forms 2290 were mailed in June to those who filed highway tax returns last year. Copies of this form, as well as a helpful booklet on the tax, Publication No. 349, can be obtained from local Revenue offices and from state motor bureau agencies.

Tax returns for the year beginning July 1, 1963 must be filed by September 3, 1963, for every taxable vehicle in highway use in July of this year. The tax may be paid in quarterly installments.

Truck and bus owners should also remember that vehicles acquired after they have filed their 1963 return are subject to the highway use tax this year. In these cases, a tax return (Form 2290) must be filed by the last day of the month following the month a truck is put into highway use.

The average cost of electricity for the Dwyers was computed by adding all their electric bills for the last year, Nov. 29, 1961, to Nov. 29, 1962, and dividing by 365 days. Naturally, costs vary according to the season and a family's living habits.

Little Bill reports:

The Ed Dwyers run these forty-one appliances for only

36¢ worth of electricity a day

Mailman Carl Jacobson stops on his appointed rounds to look on in amazement at the number of electrical helpers the Dwyer family owns—and who could blame him!

Actually, the Dwyers are fairly typical of all of us. They've been adding more electrical helpers to their household every year. And like most of us, they're using lots more (about 3 times as much) electricity today, but paying less for it per kilowatt hour.

One reason for this is the Power Grid System, which connects our power lines with companies in forty-three states. This system allows us to buy (or sell) power at advantageous rates, keeping down the price you pay. That's another reason why it costs so little to live better electrically today!

Sullivan Sets Record at Wilmot Track

Jim Sullivan of Antioch, driving a Chevy powered modified stock car in races at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot, set a new one lap qualifying round but didn't have a chance to exercise his powers in the feature race due to a thunder shower after the fourth race.

The record of 18.01 seconds for one lap with an average speed of 58.50 mph, lowered the one lap record of 18.04 set by Don Sorce of West Allis in May 1961. It marked the second track record for Sullivan this year. In June he set a 15 lap record. It was just last Saturday night that Sullivan won the 25 lap feature when Ed Stillman, defending track champion, spun out of the lead on the last lap, and Sullivan wanted very much to make the feature two in a row by winning hands down over Stillman. However, Stillman was sidelined following qualifying when he lost the clutch on his car. It seemed to be a bad night for clutches as this also sidelined popular Russ Sorenson of Racine.

In the four races that were run off before the rains fell, Bay Darnell of Deerfield won the most thrilling. The race started with Jim Bozman of Waukegan in the lead, followed by Jim Olette, Bill Shoulders, Otto and Darnell, who fought for 3 laps before shaking Shoulders. Then Bozman lost his transmission and Olette was the leader with Otto and Shoulders close. It wasn't until the last 50 feet that Darnell pushed ahead of Olette and then not even by a full car length at the checker flag.

Larry Leach of Elkhorn won the first 10 lap heat over Jack McKee of Round Lake and Norm Rush of West Dallas. Smoothie Jr. Dodd of Waukegan won the second race over Ted Schuster and Dick Vanderspool. Keny Helden of Barrington was third heat race winner from Green to Checker.

Ted Schuster of Zion was honored in driver interview time and told how he was able to hold his car so well in the corners. The youthful driver has been doing very well in the 1963 season, his third year of racing, and he has a huge following of fans who send letters to the Kenosha County Speedway asking that he be honored. Currently he is eighth in point standing which is led by Ed Stillman of Milwaukee.

Next week's feature race will be 35 laps in place of the regular 25 lap feature. This is the customary practice at the Kenosha County Speedway, the adding of 10 laps to the next feature race following a rainout.

Pop Kline of Pell Lake will be honored in the pre-race interview period. Kline has raced for more than 17 years and will have many experiences to relate for the fans.

Pahlke's 648 Leads League

Monday night the Badgers of Golfview took sole possession of first place by defeating a strong and determined Gibbs & Jensen team 16 to 14. The win gives the Badgers a 7 won, 2 lost record and puts them 1/2 game out in front of Hensley Motors, who are 6 and 2.

Rich Pahlke, who took the league leadership in hitting away from Gerry Fox of Golfview, went 5 for 6 and drove in 6 runs as Pete Matteoni's squad suffered their sixth set back of the season. Joel Christensen belted a pair of home runs and Denny Swanson hit one for the losers.

For Manager Fred Dodge and his Golfview team it was Ken Kube, who has been picked for the all star squad that led the attack with a pair of Doubles and a Triple.

MIDSUMMER MARINE CHECK-UP

About midseason the performance of some power boats begins to drop off. Accessory equipment has suffered from use, acceleration has become sluggish, top speed is noticeably lower. This is uneconomical, for fired engines burn the same amount of fuel and get less over-the-water mileage per gallon at any speed. Worn or damaged accessories may be unsafe.

A part of the fall off in performance is due to warmer weather reducing carburetor efficiency. But much of the slump is due to the engine and underwater running gear requiring a bit of attention. The hull's bottom is dragging down performance and should be rid of free riding marine organisms, grass or accumulations of grease and grime.

Now is the time for a systematic checkup.

Let's look first to safety items. Be sure that you still have fire extinguishers, that they are fully charged and supporting brackets are secured. Have any of your life jackets or buoyant cushions been damaged, destroyed or lost? Are your distress signal and first aid kits still fully equipped? Is there a full complement of mooring lines aboard? Are they frayed or rotten? Is your anchor aboard and in good condition? Have you replaced that lost boathook? Do you have any cracked navigation light lenses? Water can seep in and cause shorts. Do any of the bulbs need renewing, and have you replaced the spares you used?

Your boat's bright work may require a good polish job. Rust and corrosion left too long can cause permanent damage. Why not take care of those loose screws and repair any mooring hardware that has worked loose? Inspect steering and replace any frayed or worn cable or components.

Better check over your tools, spare parts and galley equipment. Maybe you have put off too long buying an adjustable wrench to replace the one that dropped over board several weeks ago. Do you still have a spare propeller? Did you ever get a new box of fuses? What about new batteries for that tired flashlight?

Unquestionably your power plant can stand a tune-up. One easy way to inject a bit of vitality is to give it a treatment with an engine carbon, gum and varnish solvent. Use only a type that is recommended for your own power plant and follow directions carefully. Your marine dealer will recommend a suitable product.

This is a good time to treat your engine to a new set of spark plugs and ignition points. Your battery may need a change and the terminals should be scrubbed with a baking soda solution, then coated with petroleum jelly.

New Owners Take Over Race Track

Waukegan, July 24—In a surprise move that should prove advantageous to modified stock car racing in the area, Midwest Speedways, Inc., has announced the sale of its Waukegan Speedway promotion to a newly established firm, Lake County Racing. The price of the sale was not announced.

Heading the new promotion will be two well-known men in the racing field, Mr. Robert Karry and Mr. Gordon Sill. Karry is the operator of a thriving garage business in Waukegan while Sill is a contractor in Antioch. Karry has been one of the top drivers on the southern circuit for a good many years. Sill has plenty of racing and promotion experience, including the handling of the modified stock shows at the O'Hare Stadium for a year and a half.

The lease that Midwest held with the Waukegan Speedway landowner was not due to expire until May of 1964. In the interests of better racing, the new promoters expressed a desire to begin operations this season, and the sale was made under terms that were suitable to allow the new firm to do so without having to wait and meet the rising costs next spring.

John Kaishian, president of Midwest Speedways, Inc., and promoter at the Waukegan track since 1957, has agreed to give the new owners an assist in getting started. Kaishian indicated that he had not been too interested in renewing his Waukegan lease at the expiration date, stating that the expenses in operating an out-of-state site have not been practicable in the past two years, and that the distance involved has cut considerably into the time needed to better promote the three Milwaukee area tracks under his control, namely Hales Corners, Cedarburg, and the State Fair Park.

"Rather than merely run out the lease with a minimum of expenditures," Kaishian stated, "it was felt that for the betterment of racing, the offer made by the Lake County Racing could not be turned down. They will be able to get a head start on the 1964 season, and I will be able to further my efforts in the Milwaukee area," Kaishian said.

The sale was effective as of July 22, and the first race under the new promoters was on Saturday, July 27, for sportsmen and late model cars, and on Sunday, July 28, for modified and sportsmen racing. The usual schedule will be in effect.

Warning to tourists in Zion National Park: "Take nothing but pictures—leave nothing but footprints."

A LONG DISPUTE MEANS THAT BOTH SIDES ARE WRONG. RAILROADERS PLEASE NOTE.

There was a work party at the Northern Illinois Conservation Club's New clubhouse Sunday, and the hammers were banging, the saws sawing and the backs aching merrily. A very lot was accomplished this go-round, and by us old geezers mainly. There was Al Moore (in the 70's), Willis Shannon (at least 80), Pop Hemm (60's), Elmer Eberman (he didn't say), Steve Yadron (he ain't telling, too). The younger contingent included Ernie (Nomad) DiLabio, our leader "Dick Waters and yours truly. I'm only 28 (on one side). Who said this is a young man's world? If it is, they still need us old ones to keep it in repair.

1st Bright Kid: People have two thumbs. What were they intended for?
Second bright Kid: To hold up the bottom of your sandwich.

Bruce Muench, Gregg Tichacek, fisheries biologist, and this scribe were out on the Chain doing more work on the continuing comprehensive survey of our lakes. To summarize too briefly, Grass Lake turned up good numbers of perch and other panfish, catfish and black bass. The west side of Crabapple Island which is in Nipewauke Lake produced big bluegills, as did the south and east sides which are in Fox.

Indian Point came up with a nice assortment of panfish and bass. One rocky point in Stanton Bay yielded a big bunch of channel cats. They must have been holding a convention there. Big bass, big stripers and big bluegills were also present and accounted for. There was a group of people on a nearby pier watching us measure and weigh our catch and return them to the water. One leather-lunged individual popped with this prize winning remark: "Lookit those conservation guys catching all our game fish and throwing back the carp."

The truth of the matter is, every fish was returned to the water, and only two or three panfish didn't make it. Considering the high temperature that was prevailing, this is remarkable and is a tribute to the biologists on their careful handling of this valuable asset. PEOPLE! yuch. Some really big stripers were brought up in Fox Lake as well as the ever-present carp, who, by the way, is classed as a minnow. Some joke. Lake Marie came up with plenty of big ones in the black bass and bluegill categories. The channel and bay around Rudy Palinek's was a big producer as were the channels around Sequoit Creek and Fo Weiss' place. Plenty of carp, too. And big.

Channel Lake bluegills were smaller but we brought in a big northern pike. This fish doesn't show up much in our count because it does not respond to shocking. Channel and Catherine Lakes had the clearest water and no APHANIZOMENON algae. We sounded one place in Channel Lake 32 feet deep. It was 24 degrees cooler there than at the surface. 80 versus 56. The thermocline was found at the ten foot level and went down to 28. A very sensitive electronic depth thermometer was used for this investigation. It costs a mere hundred and fifty cents and is handmade in smoggy California. It's all very interesting, but also very hard work. I like it.

So how come ball point pens have such long ink tubes and so little ink in 'em?
If it'll make you feel any better, Stocum Lake had a very big fish-kill recently, and it is believed to have been caused by the same

Drivers Re-Start on Points As Track Changes Hands

Waukegan, July 4—With the recent reported sale of the Waukegan Speedway promotion from the hands of Midwest Speedways to those of Lake County Racing, the 1963 season of modifieds and sportsmen stock car racing under the Midwest banner officially closed as of Saturday night, July 20. Racing will continue on both Saturday and Sunday nights under the new promotion.

Cubs Win Over Sox

Ricky Nelson of the Cubs pitched the Little League Cubs to a 14 to 5 victory over the Sox at the Little League park Wednesday, July 24, and boosted the Cubs' season record to 5 and 5.

In action Thursday, the Tigers edged the Yankees in a close one to one. It was a well-played game by both teams as Greg Williams took credit for the victory.

The Giants took two games during the week, defeating the Dodgers Tuesday and then taking the measure of the Sox on Friday.

Two bus loads of Antioch's Little Leaguers were among several thousand boys representing 70 communities Sunday at the Milwaukee-Cincinnati game.

The next action in the Babe Ruth league will take place Saturday, August 3, when the Antioch Advertiser squares off against the Antioch Merchants at the Antioch School field. Game time is set for 2 p.m.

Leagues Meet at Antioch Bowl

The opening of the League bowling season is only about a month away, and various leagues at the Antioch Bowl are slating business meetings to set rules, etc., for their league.

The Gutter Ball Girls will meet at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, August 6, at the Antioch Bowl. All bowlers in this league and those interested in joining the league are invited to attend.

A Captain's meeting of the Thursday Business Men's League will be held at 8 p.m. on Thursday, August 6, at the Antioch Bowl. All Captains in the Thursday Business Men's league should be present.

"Operation Waterproof Fourth Grade" at Pool

Maybe you've heard of "Operation Waterproof 4th Grade." It's a Red Cross program aimed at seeing that no child gets beyond 4th grade age without being able to take care of himself in the water.

In an area where a child is exposed almost daily to the dangers of deep water, once he's old enough to leave his own yard, the ability to swim and a comfortable ease in the water would seem to be about the best insurance a child could have, possibly second to learning caution in traffic.

Yet Charlotte Queen, manager of the Red Cross program at the pool and swimming instructor, has been surprised at the comparatively light registration in the swimming classes at the Antioch Pool, this summer.

Children six years of age and up, who have one year in school, are eligible for the classes. Any beginner, including adults, can register for the starting class. The charge is $3.00 per student per session. The session is 10 lessons, running continuously Monday through Friday for two weeks.

Ninety per cent of the small children who attend the classes can stay afloat after two weeks, Charlotte says. Thirty per cent can propel themselves 75 yards. There is the occasional child who has developed a fear of the water that the instructors find they cannot overcome.

There are six instructors aiding Mrs. Queen at the Antioch pool. They are Winnie Sorenson, Judy Sorenson, Jan Lathorn, Dick Franzen, Elaine Gallagher and Elaine Dziedez.

The first hour or two of the course is spent simply by the instructors getting acquainted with the children, trying to gain their confidence and lull any fears they may have of the water. The children are told stories about fish, about the fun they have playing in the water, how they (the fish) breathe, etc.

There are five "Stations" in the course, and children progress from one to another according to their capabilities. They have finished station 1 when they have overcome their fear of the water, have learned to adjust their breathing in the water, can hold their breath and open their eyes under water.

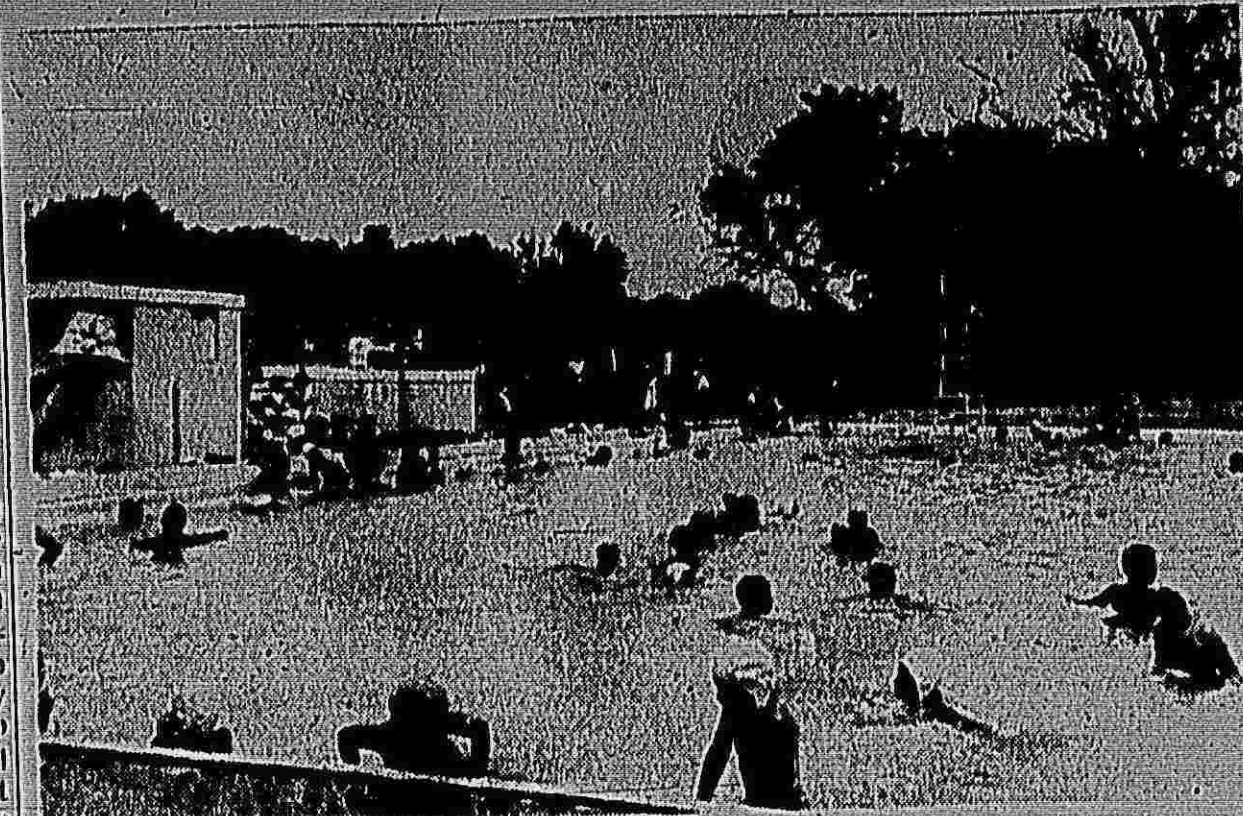

The second station is taken up in learning the various ways of floating. Everyone, says Mrs. Queen, has a natural floating position. It may be on top of the water, just below it, vertical or partly horizontal, but once it's determined you can float easily.

The third station covers the separate movements of the arms and legs that are used in various swimming strokes.

Station four teaches the combining of leg and arm strokes and adjusting the breathing to the stroke. In other words, the student really begins to swim.

The fifth, and last, station is a constant review of the previous lessons, along with introducing extra skills, such as a plain dive, changing direction, becoming used to deep water, and elementary life saving. The student who has successfully completed all five stations will be at home in the water, and have a good basis for further practice and attainment of skill in swimming.

Boat Owners Warned

Motorboat owners must check the expiration date on their motorboat Certificate of Number, William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said last week.

"Approximately 100,000 certificates are due for renewal during the calendar year 1963," Lodge said. "As of now we have renewed only 50,000 of these, and approximately 30,000 are delinquent. I remind boat owners that the fine for operating a motorboat without a valid Certificate of Number is from $10 to $100, and the Illinois Department of Conservation can cancel expired certificates. If a certificate is cancelled the boat owner must apply for a new one, and he will have to change the numbers on his boat hull to correspond with the new number," he said.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS 10 THURSDAY, AUGUST 1, 1963

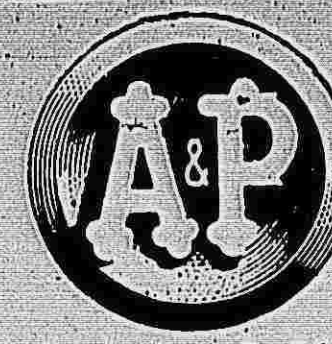

Central High School Registration Aug. 14

Salem Central High School will begin its annual registration and pre-school counseling activities on August 14. The program will continue every day between 9 and 3 until August 28, at which time orientation activities for new students will begin.

All new freshmen and all upper-class transfer students will register, by presenting themselves at the school office at their convenience during the August 14-28 period. Every entering student must be accompanied by a parent.

For the convenience of those who cannot come during the day, two evening sessions will be held on August 19 and August 26 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Boy Scouts Plan World Jamboree

Over 12,000 Scouts and leaders from 76 free nations will gather on the historic plain of Marathon, Greece, for the 11th World Jamboree August 1-11, 1963—the free world's largest nonpolitical youth event.

American Contingent

The American contingent consists of 620 Scouts and leaders from across the country organized into 16 troops. Each troop consists of four patrols of eight boys each, a Scoutmaster, two assistant Scoutmasters and one senior patrol leader—a total of 36 members. A 17th American troop from the Transatlantic Council, Boy Scouts of America, which makes Scouting possible for American military and other families stationed in the European and Mediterranean area, joins the contingent at Marathon.

In January, 1962, plans for the American contingent of 5,100 Scouts and Scouters were announced to councils across the nation. Each of the 12 Scouting geographical regions had a quota limit and reservations began coming in at an unprecedented rate.

In keeping with Scouting self-reliance, the $900 cost to each delegate is being earned by the Scouts themselves through a great variety of after-school and summer jobs. Some local scholarships are arranged but these are only partial—in Scouting a young man learns to "pay his own way" and stand on his own feet.

Jamboree Operation

Each World Jamboree—which occurs only about every four years—is planned and carried out for the Boy Scout World Bureau by the Scout association of the host country—in this case, the Boy Scout Association of Greece.

For months, the Greek government and Greek armed services also have been assisting in preparing the site, arranging for supplies, water, sanitation, the 100-bed hospital and the many logistical requirements for this "city" of 12,000.

Pre-Jamboree Training

The members of the contingent first got together at a pre-jamboree training encampment July 19-20 at Fort Slocum, N. Y. They met for the first time, practiced setting up their troop sites and Scoutcraft they will demonstrate at the jamboree, and troop and patrol spirit begins to build. They are oriented about what's ahead, what's expected of them, and how to make friends for our nation. Before flying to Europe July 22, each troop elected its 22 boy leaders. The boy-led patrol is the basis for living, cooking and activities.

The jamboree experience is planned to be as educational and broad as possible by touring the boys through parts of Europe, until the jamboree opens August 1, and again from August 11 until flying home Aug. 20; the 16 troops are organized into 8 tour groups of two troops each.

These eight tour groups will follow different itineraries but will all have seen and done the same things by the time they return home.
